

Congratulations! You have now signed all the necessary paper work towards your new future. There are still many loose ends to tie up; the following is a checklist of things you may need to do:

- Contact your lawyer and set up a meeting so the proper documents can be signed. Your lawyer has now received all the paper work from my office.
- Family and friends should be given your new address.
- Start looking for insurance companies for home & contents insurance as well as fire insurance.
- Contact local movers and look into booking a moving date.
- Contact appropriate companies for disconnection of utilities from your old home and reconnections to your new home.
